A. KUBA RUGS

This masterpiece re-creates an exquisite 18th-century rug that now resides in the Colonial Williamsburg collections. A WILLIAMSBURG® Reserve treasure from manufacturer OBEETEE, renowned for its color sensitivity, it shows a rich blend of influences from the many cultures surrounding the place the original was made—the Kuba district in the Caucasus mountain region, which divides Europe and Asia. This fine pure-wool rug is hand-knotted, hand-finished, and washed to give a subtle, antique patina. Imported. Please specify size and color: charcoal brown or rust. ☞

B. KURDISH RUGS

Medallions and floral palmettos blossom against an indigo background, bringing warmth and depth to a modern room and a rich finish to a traditional one. This fine, pure-wool rug is hand-knotted, hand-finished, and washed to give a subtle, antique patina. A WILLIAMSBURG® Reserve classic, based on an 18th-century rug in our collections, it's made for us by the skilled artisans of OBEETEE and, with proper care, will be as admired in the 22nd century (or even the 23rd) as it is today. Imported. Please specify size. ☞

C. KERMAN VASE RUGS

NEW COLOR! Superbly unique and highly valued in the markets of today and centuries past, this elegant vase rug is reproduced from a Colonial Williamsburg original. It has the distinction of being a WILLIAMSBURG® Reserve piece by OBEETEE, India's leading producer of exquisite hand-woven carpets. Marco Polo called the carpets of Kerman a marvel way back in 1270. This region of Persia—now Iran—has always produced rugs with distinctive natural patterns and rich borders. Hand-knotted pure wool. Imported. Please specify size and color: New! chocolate brown/red (shown above), rust/navy, or gold/green. ☺
